I also oppose the petitioners suggested modifications for the use of the 70cm band as proposed. Any foreign person that can afford the costs of transportation and living expenses can certainly afford the extremely low cost FRS radios to be used while in the United States. Those of us that have experienced travel abroad, know that while in those countries that we must obey their laws and rules - as written. I think that even asking for this type of modification is ridiculous and I respectfully urge the FCC to deny this petition.
